Hello, how can I help you today?

can I pay an advisory board member with

Yes, you can pay an advisory board member within a project, but there are specific rules and considerations to follow.

Based on the project guidelines, advisory boards are explicitly mentioned as a recommended approach for engaging stakeholders. Setting up an advisory board for your project, including relevant stakeholders, enables you to capture their perspectives while allowing them to act as project ambassadors ¹.

However, when it comes to payment, the compensation must follow the established cost rules:
